Man Surned to Death—Mrs. George
Hatheway's Death.

One of the largest fires that ever visited this vicinity broke out Sunday about noon. It started on the farm owned by Mrs. William Palmer, All the woodland on Gideon Palmer's farm was burned. By hard nghting the houses were all saved. At ome farmhouse the tenants look out all their clothing, expecting that the house would burn. The house was saved, but all the clothing was burned. The fire jumped the river, crossed the road and still sped on. It was 3 o'clock Monday morning before it was conquered. The largest loser was George S. James. His shingle and saw mills were both burned and a large quantity of lumber and shingles. The darmage was estimated at about $10,000. Another fire broke out down at Kingston, and there the fire company from Peacedale responded, also the village boys. One man, a French woodchopper, was burned to death. He came out of his shanty with two others, but went back, supposedly to get his money, and perished.

Moses Hart Starts Brush Fire Which Gets Beyond His Control.

Descon Haroid R. Crandall occupied the pulpit of the S. D. B. church last Saturday morning.

No Sabbath school or C. E. meeting was held Saturday, as a number wished to attend the installation services of the new pastor at Ashaway. Fire Got Beyond Control.

A brush fire set by Moses Hart, near his house, Menday got beyond his control and burned over a large tract of woodland from his house to Grassy Pond. The mills at Rockville and Centerville were shut down, and the men sent to fight the fire. By heroic efforts it was nearly subdued when the welcome rain came in the evening and finished the work. A blaze started once on the east side of the road, and but for immediate action before it got under headway there is no knowing where it would have stopped, as the woods were so dry.
